

Edward Hancock

I do not want EV's. I do not believe there is enough proof that such move would have a positive impact on the environment to offset the harm it would do to the public. I consider such action as government overreach!