

Suzanne Klapmeier

New Mexico is not California and we don't need their foolish laws and cockeyed thinking. We have elevation, long distances and need dependable and affordable cars and trucks. Fossil fuel provides that. We are not in danger of depleting our fossil fuel reserves. EVs are not sustainable and depend on electric from coal fired power—Which solves nothing. EVs are not the solution and only allow the elite to virtual signal.