

Pow Carter

Time to allow people to adjust to all available environmental adjustments as the economy dictates not through force. It took forty years for this country to change from coal to natural gas so give consumers a chance to fit in financially.