

Mary Leah Eskew

The NMED and the EPA are unelected government dept. that have no authority to implement this type of rule against the rights of the people of NM. This overreach by a bureaucratic unelected department is intolerable and outrageous! Electric and hydrogen vehicles are not the golden goose, and many reputable scientists are blowing the whistle on the increased damage to the environment and the mining impact on citizens in underdeveloped nations and the land, they are subjected to slavery! Electric cars are actually terrible for the environment!