

Jona Millard

This is a bad idea for the State of New Mexico. The infrastructure will not be established. There are too many rural areas in the State of New Mexico that barely have power let alone charging capabilities.