

David Marble

New Mexicans do not need, or want a data center. The noise, water pollution and heat pollution are nothing we want in our desert community. It lowers the property values and makes the community unlivable. And we all know that these data centers are here to support a surveillance state that no New Mexicans want either. Do the right thing and listen to the people.