Jessica Luevanos

Are you seriously thinking of polluting the air? There are so many health problems that can arise of pollutants. Please don't poison our people. Don't be the cause of their future health problems. We need to do better and having a healthier community.