

Charles D. Goetz

I have worked in construction and agriculture all my adult life and comment from that standpoint. I am no longer amazed at the wrong-headed thinking coming from bureaucrats in New Mexico. It is no wonder to anyone why this state is last in nearly every category except crime. This regulation would wreck agriculture, construction, including the plumbing and electrical trades, not to mention business in general.

What is next, a break for getting cold? How about too windy?

This is nuts!
