

Lynn Tyler

What is being proposed is so ridiculous it is hard to believe those proposing it have ever done a day of work themselves let alone run a business. Whoever made this proposal should be removed from their position immediately and go find a real job that requires work and performance to remain employed. Maybe some education also.