

Max DeHerrera

It must be a better financially to provide breaks, shade and water than it is to have a worker in the hospital with heat illness and then miss work. Not only that it's just having empathy for your workers.