

Cirrelda Snider-Bryan

As a former APS classroom teacher, I experienced difficulties with managing room temperature for my students in portable classrooms. As climate fluctuations are now habit, it's imperative that safeguards are put in place to help school professionals manage environments they provide safe and effective care in.