

Jennifer Pierce

Creating a rule which will hinder those working in the ag community will continue to bring our state on a rapid downhill slide. If a person is incapable of taking care of themselves and resting when needed, staying hydrated etc, then they should not have an outside job. Our founding fathers built this country in hot miserable weather, we should be able to work in it. Stop trying to pamper the next generation to work hard. Trade labor will not survive. Ranching and farming and even highway departments will all be effected by this and our government should know better than to create something as outrageous as this. If you arent capable of working outside.... get an inside job.