

Rodney Paris

The restrictions in this documents will drive up costs on construction and led to addtional employees needed in times of extreme tempatures. Most employers will take care of the employees. We care and want to make sure that employees are cared for and safety is most important. I do believe however that this overreaches.