

Chris Sichler

I am a Farmer. My employees frequently work in temperature above 80 degrees. I have been farming 40 years and have never encountered an incident where an employee was affected by heat. This rule would make it impossible to grow your food. I am entirely against this regulation.