

Daniel Helton

So it's not enough that these legislators have run off all the good doctors in NM with their idiotic laws, now they want to crush the construction industry too, in addition to other businesses that have employees that work outside. I would say that it is unbelievable but, of course in NM nothing is unbelievable that comes out of Santa Fe.