

Christina Yovovich

This regulation is so important and overdue. I have a son in public school and every August school starts and he and his classmates and teachers have to deal with horrible, unsafe levels of heat that make teaching and learning nearly impossible. It's ridiculous that everyone who works or attends public school has to deal with this. Not only would this regulation make schools safer, it would make them more effective.