

Kari Seeley

I believe this is an extremely important rule that should pass, I myself am in production work at ABB and it gets extremely hot because they have machines burning at high temperatures all the time. I've been trying to push for more heat protection within the company and this might help a lot!