

Pattie Sheahan

This is totally unnecessary rule. There are regulations in place for safety on jobs it's. this would interfere with the employer/employee relationship not ot mention it is unworkable. My husband worked in the Arizona desert on heavy equipment and never had issues from the heat. He planned and kept plenty of water on hand. This is a personal responsibility issue, not a state issue. Do not pass this rule