

Daniel Donahue

Heat stroke is a serious concern and with climate change breaking heat records every year, it is only getting more serious.

OSHA exists to protect workers. Work life before OSHA was profit centered and workers were routinely injured or killed.

Take steps to protect workers from heat related injuries.