

Jake n/a

From what you can see in my information, I am not American. The hatred for this 'project' has left the borders of America and reached the wider world. What you are doing is going to damage our ozone layer, our environment more than what you think. Your money hungry minds cannot think beyond what happens to you. People have no water, and not just the people near your 'projects', all over the world and YOU are using the resources that could save their lives. You're killing habitats by just building this 'project'. Creatures, little lives that keep our food cycle running smoothly, animals that help us grow our food. You destroy plants. Plants that keep our air clean, that make it so each breath isn't painful. The air quality permit application should be denied given Bloom Energy's history of illegal dumping hazardous waste. You really want to support that? This isn't any woke bs. This is real life, this is what's happening. Plants that provide food for us and for the little creatures. I have one question for you. How selfish do you have to be, to go through with this. You can still stop. No one is forcing you to continue. For a moment, think about everyone BUT yourself. Please. This message comes from someone on the other side of the world. If that doesn't make you stop and think, "maybe what I'm going is a bit wrong", there is no hope in you ever caring for anything but yourself. I am lucky I have just come across this before the date and I don't even live there. The people of the area and the wider world should have more time to tell you their needs. They need more time. They need their 60 days. If the permit is not denied, a public hearing needs to be held in Santa Teresa, in both English and Spanish, with an option to participate virtually. People who this doesn't reach, need to be able to express their opinions and needs. Approving this permit would be government-sponsored environmental racism as residents of Doña Ana County are already disproportionately impacted by environmental pollution. The people here, their air is already not up to standard. You cannot tell me this doesn't sound like a movie. The air they breathe, is harming them. They do not need anymore pollutants in their air. What if it was your home place? You can say on TV all you want that if you were them you'd support it, you wouldn't care about breathing in that toxin filled air but we all know, no one wants that. No one says "mm I feel like I'd live better if my air I breathe was harming me". You do not want toxic chemical pollutants and 10 million tons of carbon dioxide in your air. Stop the entirety of 'Project Jupiter'.