

Eliana Plumb

I do not want data centers in my state, and I do not want this permit approved. Data centers harm not only the natural environment but the people who live there as they deal with limited water and droning noise. The average person doesn't need to use AI. The people who advocate for it the most are those who have invested in it, but they aren't the average person who has to live around the centers and deal with the consequences. Protecting the environment and its people is essential. Do not allow this.