

andilyn perry

please stop adding data centers we need water we need habitats for our animals and you people want to rip it away from us and them and it's going to kill us all slowly. the air feels thick and the ground feels more dry than usual and the global warming gets worse as the days go by.