

Jeff Owens

I oppose the construction of this data center. In a state already struggling with water shortages, this project will only consume vast amounts of water. It will also expel tons of greenhouse gasses. In an age of ever-increasing surveillance, this project aims to collect even more of our data, something we often don't get a chance to consent to.