

Michelle Gonzales

As a local resident in New Mexico, I strongly oppose Project Jupiter. The amount of groundwater usage from this project will greatly over stress the aquifers used by our communities, farmers and natural wildlife. Most residents are aware of our drought levels, and this project will only accelerate water scarcity and instability. This project will do damage to New Mexico's environment and ultimately a disservice for its residents.