

Maddie bewsher

The pure amount of CO<sub>2</sub> that this would produce would outweigh what little accessible any amount of data centres could create. This would impact the people and children living close by and needs to be prevented.