

Wavey Villanueva

We don't need a data center in the middle of a desert. This is detrimental to the environment and to our water supply. Additionally, the economic bubble for AI data centers is bound to pop soon, and we will be left with wasted money and wasted space. We are begging you to listen when we say this is not what New Mexico needs or wants.