What happened to doing better for our planet?! Do billionaires not realize that they are human as well and need the earth and what the earth provides like we do?! I don't get greed at all! Y'all already have millions and billions in your account, stop killing us for more. Clean air, clean water, clean soil, nature, animal life, plant life are basic necessities for not only the planet's life to thrive but especially human life. This will not only affect those in Mexico, whatEVER is done to the earth causes a chain reaction across the globe. Our world is polluted ENOUGH, just STOP! You'll probably look at my response and laugh or roll your eyes at it but I don't care. You can be heartless but as long as I'm not and reach people who aren't either, that's all that matters. We will fight for our rights, our BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS. I wouldn't expect people who aren't human to understand that, but don't worry because God, the Universe, and I will handle y'all.
