

Jacob Brewer

i have siblings who are more younger than me. how are they supposed to grow up in this world but by 10 years climate change will be so bad we will never be able to come back. What's the reasoning for a data center? Nobody asked for it! Everyone is demanding it to stop! Really what's your reasoning? It's the money. Billionaires support and fund these corporations. On top of that how is this going to benefit EVERYONES WORLD. gosh we live in a floating rock in a vast space where we don't even know how big is it. billons of people living here, and we let one big corporation do whatever the hell they want. i demand this isn't necessary, all this money can help people in need or other charity's. we don't need millions of carbon dioxide releasing into our atmosphere.