

Genevieve Keryte

I do not agree with any data base going up especially in New Mexico. Our water here is already depleting at a concerning rate. We do not need a data center to contribute to that even more. We need to focus on community and the issues we already have.