

Evalin Garcia

As a lifetime resident of New Mexico, it is extremely disappointing to find that my own state representatives do not feel that the conservation of precious, non-renewable resources, such as water, are not important to the well-being of New Mexican residents and the natural landscape. I am, and always will be, firmly against the construction of data centers and the destruction of our beautiful state and communities