

Anna Vendrely

I am very concerned about the environmental impact of this data center. Specifically related to the impact on air quality. This company has been anything but transparent and at this point is not to be trusted. They are spending a lot of money to convince people to let them come into our community and cause harm. It's disgusting.