

Abigail Anderson

I moved to New Mexico in 2019. I have grown to love the desert and everything about southern NM. I am currently going to school at NMSU in Las Cruces to be a history major. I cannot stand idly by while project Jupiter threatens our environment even more. NM is the desert, we have limited water as is. This summer temperatures have already soared into the 100s and it is barely July. This data center is going to make southern NM unlivable. We do not have the water to support this. Even if we did, I wouldn't support it. We have survive without AI for hundreds of years. It does nothing to improve my quality of life. It honestly just makes it worse. I do not want to lose the home I have come to love. I do not want to see Southern New Mexico turn into an unlivable wasteland.