As a resident of New Mexico, I am deeply disturbed by the proposal of this data center, and I implore that the permit for this site be denied. Driving by the Rio Grande, it is painfully apparent that our state's precious water resources are already strained to their capacity. Allowing this data center to be constructed would only compound the problem, using gallons upon gallons of water every hour. The public must be given more time to review the air quality permit, and the permit MUST be denied.
