I am a resident of Albuquerque, NM and I am staunchly against bringing large scale AI data centers into our communities, where lack of water US already a primary concern as we brace for climate change and finite resources. New Mexico has long been subjected to the effects of nuclear energy, oil and gas, and other environmental extractions— its people often abandoned in the aftermath with the consequences. I urge state leaders to listen to the people, we cannot become a sacrifice zone for big tech. Our beautiful state and communities deserve better.
