I am very concerned about the air quality surrounding the new data center. The fuel cell technology has not been used at this scale before and because of this, we don't know how it will affect air quality. Since the area already fails to meet clean air standards, it would be against the good of the people to add more air pollution to the area.

The public should be given an additional 60 days to review and comment on the air quality permit so community members can participate equitably.

The air quality permit application should be denied outright given Bloom Energy's history of illegal dumping hazardous waste. Approving this permit would be government-sponsored environmental racism directed at residents of Doña Ana County.

If the permit is not denied outright, a public hearing needs to be held in Santa Teresa, in both English and Spanish, with an option to participate virtually.
