

Kiara Gunasekara

We as humans lived without phones, technology, god even some food we eat, so why? Why do we need AI. Mother earth's resources are limited so like how we cannot waste money or electricity we cannot waste her resources on something so stupid as ai. If we do so in a matter of time every human, every animal and every plant will be dead and who's to blame? People of course, more than people it would be business owners like mark Zuckerberg who make these ai data centers. And to the people who support this just know it effects you mentally and physically and it takes away your privacy like how in Instagram chats they are trying to take off encryption so they can train ai bots off of your personal texts. If you big companies and governments want our privacy to be gone and mother earth and nature and humans to die you aren't governments or companies, y'all are devils, demons and monsters