

James Treadwell

I have lived in New Mexico, in the desert, for most of my life. Our state is beautiful, but fragile, and already under tremendous strain. You cannot seriously be considering approving a project that could use up to 1 Million gallons of water a day in the middle of a desert ecosystem! There is no responsible way to build a facility that would produce more greenhouse gasses than Albuquerque during the current climate crisis!

Money would be nice, but not at the cost of the place we all live.
