

Mia Marrufo

We do not need data centers in New Mexico. Anyone who has children and is invested in ensuring that they have livable BREATHABLE air for the future would be against this. We are ruining the quality of life that everyone who is a future or current member of the community would have. Air pollution is ruining our earth and to be allowing this data center to be built and possibly emit more pollution than Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Las Cruces combined is deplorable.