STOP KILLING THE PLANET. The only reason I wake up everyday is because of what the world gives me. Your jobs are all lies, they last for a year and then you move on. You barely fill those centers once they are built. It's NOT sustainable. It causes major health issues, steals water, and strips the land for humans and animals alike. No one wants this. The only people who are for it are corrupt, unknowing, or can't tell a lie from the truth.
