As a 20 year old young woman growing up in the age of rapidly advancing technology such as AI, I firmly stand against the construction of this data center. Not only would it DESTROY the quality of life for the people who have to live near it, it would be making the world's already struggling atmosphere struggle even harder. Where I live, temperatures are already at record highs with the overuse of AI around the country and communities, namely those of color, are being displaced and destroyed so that these horrible data centers can be constructed. Why don't the living beings on this planet deserve to keep living? Why in the world would you continue to build destructive technology that is poisonous and dangerous to everything in the world, including the earth itself??
