

Azul Nava-Gomez

Living in New Mexico my entire life, summers have gotten horribly blistering. Water is a resource this state can not afford to waste, especially as temperatures rise and it begins to evaporate faster. It should be used for our cities, our homes, and us, not on these data centers that can do nothing for New Mexico.