

Anonymous Anonymous

I reside in Grants, NM, its near the main city, Albuquerque. If these data centers pop up we won't be able to adapt to these negative changes that Project Jupiter would have if they go along and develop Project Jupiter. They will bleed this desert dry, I am Navajo, I have family that live on the Navajo Nation that got effected by mining companies, they had no way of clean water and they still dont. They have to hall water from there local water tank. It's a big problem that elders in the reservation face. So I wouldn't want New Mexico to suffer from Project Jupiter from there selfishness to succeed in dominating the A.I. race. I would want to live in New Mexico with no problems. But sadly there is if the developers succeed in making Project Jupiter happen. I am still at a young age, I can speak for the future. I don't want these companies to destroy the land that I want to preserve. That my ancestors worked hard to preserve, but sadly your hurting the land we are supposed to cherish, I am Navajo I speak for my people when I say I don't want our land and people to suffer from these types of actions that are gonna effect our future. I hope that these people know whats right and whats wrong, but they don't. They wanna be greedy and destroy this land, that's beautiful just becauses theres empty land doesn't mean that you have to make a profit off of it. Project Jupiter needs to be stopped. To protect and persevere New Mexicans and the Indigenous people communities and to restore the environment thay we live in. I am young, I am apart of the future so I want New Mexico to have a a better chance at staying the way it is healthy and thriving for the present and the future coming up. I don't want to have health risks for this new proposal of a fuel cell plant thats never been done. Its scary and frightening to be honest, if Project Jupiter builds up. But I am not gonna be a coward, I am gonna speak up for whats going on in my beloved state.