

Henley Gloy

These large data centers are unnecessary and pose a huge health risk to communities and local wildlife. They will cause undue harm to the environment, stealing resources that are necessary to maintain all forms of life. Pushing this project is not only disgraceful and harmful, but it is abhorrent in that it disregards the opinions of the communities that fight for and inhabit the land.