

Buzz Davis

In these years our government has become less and less transparent. All the data and research report by government agency staffers and interested public must be on the table.

This present project is one of these that does not meet reasonable transparency standards.

We are losing control of our government and our environment chunk by chunk with these actions.

Thank you for your attention to this matter most important to humans and our environment. Peace!

Buzz Davis former Army officer.