The majority of the world is fed up with ai and data centers. You promise jobs, temporary jobs. I've seen what data centers do to communities. People who live nearby don't have clean water, water pressure, clean air, and people are getting sick and dying because of these issues. This doesn't benefit our community, our water, our environment, or our lives. How much will this "help" the community if you poison and kill all of us? You can't make money off of us if we are all dead. You are also violating religious freedom seeing as how the pope has denounced ai. So do you care about the community's health and freedom of religion or do you just want money?
