

Kendrick gardner

The enormous strain on our local environment this data center would cause is not worth the little to no improvement on our economy, or the lackluster amount of jobs it would create that will most likely be outsourced from other states anyway