

Carnelian Raine

This proposal is a greenwashing of the terrible things Project Jupiter is going to do to New Mexico. We already see that the Rio Grande is drying out. They said that they would only use 20,000 gallons a day but then it was found more like 1 million gallons. Our farmers and our people depend on the water. A data center that has no consciousness should not have more rights to water than the farmers and the people that live here. The emissions for this proposal would be more damaging to the air we breathe than the four biggest cities in New Mexico. El Paso, Sunland Park, Santa Teresa already have the worst air quality in the world already. Do we really want to harm the constituents of Dona Ana with more air pollution?