

Briana Telles

It is imperative that we say no to data centers in New Mexico, especially in a smaller town like Las Cruces. This money could be spent elsewhere where it can generate consistent revenue for the city and create LASTING jobs for our community members.

It is genuinely disgusting that the people we elected to represent us and care for us have rolled over so easily at the sight of a quick buck by way of this data center.

If New Mexico as a whole has any respect or compassion for its citizens ALL of New Mexico should say no to data centers! Our resources are finite and our land and culture are already in peril.

There is no need for all of New Mexico to suffer just so a few can get rich.