

Katherine Boer

The people do not want AI data centers, especially not in drought prone desert regions. Add 60 days to the review and comment period for the air quality permit application so the voices of the people can be heard or deny the application outright. People over profit!