

Kimora n/a

The fact that this even has to be a question about why we do not want a large data center to ruin our environment where we already have so much things I'm doing that is insane. Please reconsider the project for the livelihoods of the future generations ourselves and our world.